Famous for their sophisticated "Munich style", they produced stained glass windows of highest and finest quality for more than 50 cathedrals and thousands of churches just for their American clientele.

The Mayer studio, now owned and operated by the 4th and 5th generations, is still strongly obliged to its tradition and heritage: in style, qualities, and values. The self-conception of quality and workmanship combined with the ability to explore and improve has made Franz Mayer of Munich, Inc. one of the international leading studios for stained glass, architectural glass and mosaic. ■

Water Structures LLC is a custom baptismal font manufacturer whose products can be found in Catholic Churches throughout the U.S. including Alaska and Hawaii. Water Structures is able to provide professional services and products because it specializes in factory built custom designed baptismal fonts. Many of the Catholic community's most prominent Liturgical designers and architects use Water Structures custom baptismal fonts and equipment because they want to provide their customers with a guaranteed leak proof proven product. They know that site built baptismals using risky waterproofing systems like plastic membrane, welded metal or concrete can develop leaks in the short or long term.
Water Structures LLC provides Auto Cad shop drawings, factory water testing of baptismal shells and equipment, optional factory installations, and a ten-year no leak limited warranty. Clients also benefit from our professional service department that knows your font and equipment.
If you are considering building a baptismal font, we would be pleased to discuss the possibilities with you or your design professional. ■

Around the turn of the 19th century, the two sister companies Franz Mayer of Munich, Inc. and F.X.Zettler, belonged to the worldwide renown and appreciated stained glass studios. Famous for their sophisticated "Munich style", they produced stained glass windows of highest and finest quality for more than 50 cathedrals and thousands of churches just for their American clientele.

The Mayer studio, now owned and operated by the 4th and 5th generations, is still strongly obliged to its tradition and heritage: in style, qualities, and values. Together with their crew of artists, glass painters and master craftsmen, they take all their efforts to meet the high quality, details, and transparency of the traditional windows – even nowadays.

The self-conception of quality and workmanship combined with the ability to explore and improve has made Franz Mayer of Munich, Inc. one of the international leading studios for stained glass, architectural glass and mosaic. ■

Famous for their sophisticated "Munich style", they produced stained glass windows of highest and finest quality for more than 50 cathedrals and thousands of churches just for their American clientele.

The Mayer studio, now owned and operated by the 4th and 5th generations, is still strongly obliged to its tradition and heritage: in style, qualities, and values. From feeding the starving in Haiti to building houses in Nicaragua, Food For The Poor reaches out to the physically impoverished, restoring hope and faith in God's mercy and goodness.

In Haiti, a hungry child's cries for food are answered... in Jamaica, a desperate mother is given a new, safe house to shelter her children... in Guatemala, a child lingering on the brink of death receives love, nourishment and healing from the nuns who run a clinic there.

Food For The Poor strives to follow Christ's mandate to care for the poor. Desperately needed aid is distributed through local clergy, churches and other missionaries; this expression of God's love infuses new hope in the lives of the needy.

Food For The Poor is the second-largest international relief organization based in the U.S.* More than 96% of all donations received go directly to programs that help the poor. By supplying materials that are specifically requested by clergy working in Latin America and the Caribbean, we serve poverty-stricken areas in the most efficient and cost-effective way possible.

Food For The Poor works with Catholic churches, here and abroad, in answering God's call to care for the destitute. Together we continue to serve our brothers and sisters who are most in need.

The Chronicle of Philanthropy, 2007

Advocate and intermediary for Food For The Poor in Jamaica, Most Reverend Charles Henry Dufour, Bishop of Montego Bay, visits with Pope Benedict XVI, who blessed and encouraged the organization's work.

Be inspired by this place of peace, relaxation, and spiritual renewal in the many meditation and prayer gardens or peaceful trails.

San Damiano is the home of Christ the Good Shepherd Shrine. Designed and created by the world renowned St. Louis, Missouri artist Mr. Robert Cassily, the bronze statue measures 35 feet in height and is the largest of its kind within the United States. The statue depicts Christ cradling a struggling lamb within His arms. The message of the statue is clear, though we face many challenges and struggles within our lives, Christ is always there to comfort and reassure us.

The 200 acres perched on top of a 225 foot bluff offers a birds-eye-view of the Ohio River and Western Kentucky. Accommodations are available for your group in cottages with individual balconies overlooking the Ohio River. The shrine welcomes your retreat, seminar, or workshop in the conference center. ■
